

Yes To My No

© 2017 Thomas "Nik" Zakrzewski

I've always been a good boy, always did what I was told
But lately I've been feeling like my heart's been bought and sold
You said do unto others what I'd have them do to me
Well now here comes some good news, I've set all the others free

Fuck you!

And the horse that you rode in on
I'm getting off this path of shoulds and should nots I have been on My open heart has called me home; I'm going with my flow
Sometimes to get to Yes you have to say Yes to your No

I gave in to my parents, teachers, preachers, thought why fight 'em
Their views of what I should be, they go on ad infinitum
Now something deep inside my soul is crying to be free
I've dropped my bags and hit the road to authenticity.

This soul once brokenhearted
Is rising up and heading off for parts unknown, uncharted
My open heart has called me home; I'm heading out the do'
Sometimes to get to Yes you have to say Yes to your No

No Chorus and Dance Break

I hope you won't misunderstand these words that I've been sayin'
I mean no disrespect, it's not your love I am betrayin'
It's just this heart of mine that will not rest until it's found
The truth of who I am when who I am is love unbound

Whoo Hoo!

You may be puzzled by its charms
But only Love that starts with me can hold you in its arms
Our open heart calls fearlessly; It's where we have to go
Sometimes to get to Yes you have to say Yes to your No
